Why You Cannot Miss This Event

Health reform and the regulatory cascade is gaining momentum and the ripple effects are impacting us in unforeseen ways, despite the broad stroke previews we have seen in the Affordable Care Act. This dynamic means that we have to stay abreast of an increasingly complex environment to understand the threats and risks as they emerge. But it also means that opportunities present themselves to nimble and adaptive plans and providers. Come and be sure these things are on your radar:

- 2015 CMS payment levels drop – revenue protection and coding accuracy are more important now than ever
- In-home assessments are threatened as diagnostic accuracy tools – the future of in-home assessment
- Health insurance exchanges – reshuffling insurance markets and the purchase decision power moves towards individual consumers
- Risk adjustment evolves as mainstream – health insurance exchange markets learn from Medicare Advantage and the whole process steps up and may spill over to Medicare
- Accountable care – now 40% of physicians are involved and it poses a sea-change for healthcare delivery
- Population health – the indispensable foundation for accountable care, yet so dependent on data accuracy and insights, while technology and big data emerge as crucial tools
- NCQA – changing and taking the game up another level
- Best practices – learning from one another, first-hand lessons learned and insights gained
- With all the changes, what does best practice look like running a Risk Adjustment shop?
- When is technical competence necessary but not sufficient by itself? What are the essential managerial competencies that have to be mastered in addition so it all comes together?

Come and absorb the information, but even better: come network with other plans and providers to build your own support network for the long run. Register today! Call 866-676-7689 or online at www.frallc.com/events/risecalifornia.

Sincerely,

Kevin Mowll
